FIFTH ARMY ENGAGED IN BLOODY BATTLE

Nazis Mass Forces Against Americans On Salerno Front

Enemy Resisting Desperately Determined Penetration Into Their Hill Positions Protecting Port of Naples

BRITISH FORCES SPEEDING STEADILY NORTHWARD

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, Sept. 13.—(P)—Bitter and bloody battle raged into its fifth consecutive day around the American Fifth Army's Salerno bridgehead today, with growing German forces resisting desperately the determined penetration into their hill positions guarding the plain and protecting the broad port of Naples.

The British Eighth Army, speeding rapidly northward from the Italian toe against little or no enemy opposition, captured the Port of

MORE ITALIAN SHIPS ARRIVE AT VALLETTA

Giant Seaplane Carrier, Four Destroyers and Number of Submarines Make Port

RAISES TOTAL TO 38

London, Sept. 13.—(P)—Another Italian naval force arrived at Valletta, Malta, today, including the 23,000-ton battleship Giulio Cesare, the 5,000-ton seaplane carrier Giuseppe Miraglia, four destroyers and a number of submarines.

The arrival brought to at least 38 the known number of Italian warships in Allied hands, and naval authorities waited for word of other arrivals from a score of Mediterranean bases.

Six of Italy's seven battleships now have been accounted for. Five are in Allied hands, the Roma was sunk by German planes, and only the 35,000-ton Impero remains unreported.

The 35,000-ton battleships Italia and Vittorio Veneto and the smaller 24,000-ton Andrea Doria, Dulio, as well as six cruisers, eight destroyers and 14 submarines arrived at Malta late last week, shortly after the armistice was announced.

A dispatch from Madrid, said that an Italian cruiser and four other warships and gunboats, had been interned at Port Mahon in the Balearics for oversteering the 24-hour law provided by International law.

Two other Italian destroyers, the

Skipper Who Sank Ark Royal is Taken

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—The navy announced today that the skipper of the German U-boat which sank the British aircraft carrier Ark Royal had been captured by a United States plane which bombed and sank the enemy undersea boat off the coast of Brazil.

Captain Lieutenant Friedrich Guggenberger, who was decorated by Germany for the sinking of the British carrier in 1941, was one of seven survivors picked up after a duel between the navy plane and the U-boat in which bombs finally shattered the submarine.

Guggenberger, the navy said, "is now a prisoner of the United States."

The date of the action in which the submarine was sunk was not disclosed.

Guggenberger was commander of one of two U-boats which the Germans credited for the Ark Royal sinking.

Tanned California Blonde Is Crowned "Miss America"

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 13.—(P)—A tanned California blonde who resembles the late screen star, Carole Lombard, was crowned "Miss America" today and directors of the annual Atlantic City pageant estimated the 19-year-old coed would earn $10,000 during the year.

Jean Barker, of Los Angeles, Calif., a U. C. L. A. student, was crowned "Miss America of 1943" Saturday night, and today she was crowned "Miss America of 1944" to begin a 15-week war bond selling tour which will start in New York and take her to 50 of the

"KIDNAPING" OF MUSSOLINI UNCONFIRMED

German Broadcasts Attempt to Spread Intriguing Mystery Over "Rescue" of Mussolini

DETAILS ARE LACKING

By the Associated Press

Berlin and Tokyo waxed lyrical today over the Nazi-reported "liberation" of Benito Mussolini.

"Not only Mussolini's personal friends, but the whole Japanese nation were overwhelmed with joy by the duke's liberation," the chief of the Japanese information bureau told a press conference, according to a Berlin broadcast recorded by The Associated Press.

"This feat was one of the most dramatic events of this war and Japan unreservedly admires the determination and loyalty of the fuhrer to liberate his friend who was doomed to death," the Japanese propagandist was quoted as saying.

Berlin said the "coup" was hailed in Axis-controlled capitals, declaring that in Oslo, Norway, the "local public is completely under the spell of the special communique" and that "from the military viewpoint this is said to be one of the most daring coups de main in world history and politically one of the greatest failures ever suffered by Britain and the United States."

London, Sept. 13.—(P)—The German radio chortled today over the Nazi-reported rescue of former Premier Benito Mussolini and some of his henchmen.

Twelve hours after his release by German parachute troops and elite guards was announced by Berlin, broadcasts recorded by The Associated Press began a full-blown exploitation of the incident, hailing it as a master stroke and "an audacious venture."

The German broadcasts attempted to spread an intriguing mystery over the incident, however, by declaring official quarters were tight-lipped over the whole occurrence.

A DNB broadcast said "competent circles in Berlin state that other Fascist leaders were freed with Mussolini."

(The Office of War Information noted that while the Nazis were boasting about Mussolini's "capture," they hadn't seen fit to have him broadcast, and weren't even quoting him today.)

The Netherlands radio said that Vittorio Mussolini, eldest son of the deposed duke, had arrived in Germany, but it did not indicate whether he was one of those whom the Germans claim to have freed.

Bryansk Is Under Fire Of Russian Guns

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Sept. 13.—(P)—The Red Army advance brought Bryansk within gun range today as the Soviet forces, engaged in the Roslavl drive to the northwest and on the west bank of the Desna river to the southwest, threatened to encircle this toughest German bastion in central Russia.

Sweeping across the Ukraine, the Russians won new gains after crossing the Psel river at Gad-yach and further increased the peril of the German forces in the Poltava-Priluki sectors. The general drive toward the Dnieper river continued, meanwhile, along the entire front from the mouth of the river to Kiev.

The greatest German effort to hold back the powerful Russian drive was exerted along the southernmost sector of the front where enemy tanks and infantry were desperately striving to keep the Harrisburg, Sept. 13.—(P)—Milk price increases of three cents a quart in three marketing areas and two cents a quart in eight others were provided in tentative orders made public today by the State Milk Control Commission.

The proposed orders, in most cases, give farmers an increase of 90 cents a hundredweight on class one fluid milk, which covers the larger portion of the milk produced.

Negotiations For Armistice Are Revealed

Overtures Had Been Under Way Almost Month Before Italy Stepped Out

IN DESPERATE PLIGHT

London, Sept. 13.—(P)—Negotiations for the Italian armistice were started almost a month before the actual terms were laid down and Italy stepped out of the war, an authoritative account of the secret sessions has disclosed.

First overtures were made to British officials in two unidentified countries by emissaries of Marshal Pietro Badoglio, who said that Italy's plight was desperate and asked for terms, the account declared, but they were told that the only terms were unconditional surrender.

In the middle of August an Italian general traveled to Lisbon ostensibly on another mission and went to Sir Ronald Hugh Campbell, British ambassador to Portugal, to renew his plea.

He told the British he had full authority to say for the Badoglio government that when the Allies landed in Italy the Italians would join them.

This was reported to the British and American governments, and the Russian and British dominion governments also were informed. High officials of General Dwight

PITTSBURGH KICKS IN WITH $87,000,000

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(P)—Pittsburgh kicked in to the Third War Loan drive to the tune of $87,000,000 yesterday.

A bond rally at Forbes Field, at which the Hollywood cavalcade of film stars played the leading part, alone realized $70,000,000. That figure, announced by Miss Greer Garrison, brought tremendous shouts from an overflow throng of approximately 40,000 persons who gained admittance with the purchase of bonds ranging from $25 to $1,000,000.

The rally and dinner were preceded by a parade through Pittsburgh which police estimated attracted 150,000 persons. Film stars also participated in this.

Lightest Vote in Years Is Predicted By Party Leaders

Harrisburg, Sept. 13.—(P)—Only slightly more than 1,000,000 of Pennsylvania's 4,349,988 registered voters are expected to turn out tomorrow for primary elections which will decide local party leadership for the 1944 presidential and senatorial election.

The lightest vote in recent years is looked for by leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties because of the war, the lack of state-wide fights and the absence of more than a half million of the commonwealth's sons in the armed forces.

At stake in addition to party control will be Republican and Democratic nominations for state superior court (both parties have a single candidate), mayors in 27 cities, judges in 49 counties and municipal and county posts. Local option referenda on the wet-dry issue will be held in 97 communities.

There will be a light vote, no question about it, asserted M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, who added, "we are trying to nominate good candidates" (Turn to Page Seven)

BROAD STREET STATION HAS $250,000 FIRE

More Than 350 Persons Were Injured, Some Seriously, Battling Flames

SCHEDULE CHANGED

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—(P)—A stubborn fire that roared unchecked for four hours through train sheds at the Pennsylvania Railroad's Broad Street station left 16 tracks a jumble of charred wreckage today with damage estimated by the railroad at $250,000.

More than 350 persons, nearly all of them firemen and civilian protection workers, were injured, several seriously, in battling the eight-alarm blaze, which broke out as church bells rang yesterday, six days after the Pennsylvania's Congressional Limited was wrecked at Philadelphia with a death toll of 80.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, City Fire Bureau, Railroad Police and Army and Navy Intelligence Offices immediately began an investigation of the fire, which started in an engine room under the "Gimmes Wall" on which trains approach the station from the west.

The 57 trains scheduled to leave yesterday from the $4,000,000 station, which replaces a structure destroyed by a $1,000,000 fire in 1923, left instead from the connecting suburban station and the 30th street station.

The railroad said all passengers in the station, including approximately 100 boarding a train for New York, were escorted to safety.

R. C. Morse, vice president in charge of the railroad's eastern division, disclosed that six passenger coaches and 1,500 pieces of baggage also were destroyed.

Service was restored to normal at 7 a. m. today with completion of the makeshift platform.

Early today, 118 carloads of material and equipment had arrived for reconstruction of the damaged facilities and another 87 carloads were enroute, the railroad announced.

Workers were imported from Altoona, Harrisburg and New York for restoration work.

YOUTH ARRESTED IN CORNFIELD SLAYING

Indiana, Pa., Sept. 13.—(P)—Shortly after Steve P. Vitkay, Sr., a 62-year old coal miner, of Iselin, was shot to death in a cornfield yesterday state police reported they had taken an 18-year old suspect into custody. He will be given a hearing tomorrow night.

Coroner E. L. Fleming said Vitkay had been pulling off ears of corn in the field when he was struck in the head by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle.

Fleming added no formal charge had been filed against the suspect.

PHILADELPHIA AFTER BOTH CONVENTIONS

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—(P)—Negotiations were reported under way today to bring the Republican and Democratic national conventions to Philadelphia in 1944.

Albert M. Greenfield, chairman of the All-Philadelphia Citizens' Committee formed to bring the conventions here, said he heard from Washington last night that Philadelphia was high bidder for the Democratic convention and had an offer to host the Republican convention.

Hull Says Force Is Peace Foundation

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—Secretary of State Hull believes that readiness to use force is the foundation of peace.

Expounding the basic principles of American foreign policy in a broadcast last night, he asserted that one of the war aims of the United States is to achieve an iron-clad peace for the postwar world backed by nations ready to use force to maintain it.

Apparently referring to the flood of discussion on postwar problems likely to follow the reconvening of congress tomorrow, Hull appealed for a non-partisan approach to the vital question of postwar organization.

Beyond suggesting that a court of international justice should form part of the postwar system to calm the "non-moral aspect" of another world war, he did not disclose the details of the peace-time organization toward which the United States is aiming.

Issues of Historic Import Await Convening of Congress With Peace Stand Foremost

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—Congress returns from a summer recess tomorrow to work for the war and prepare for the peace.

International and domestic problems of historic import confront the refreshed lawmakers as they resume their legislative chores in an atmosphere brightened by the surrender of Italy.

Immediate congressional attention was focused upon the direct problem of war and their impact on the domestic economy—problems of raising revenue, of rationing, of mustering manpower for production and for the military forces.

Ahead are questions of long range legislation—issues and controversies which may shape American foreign policy in the post-war world and blueprint the pattern for economic life at home for years to come.

And from the decisions and the controversies of congress in coming months may come the issues of the 1944 presidential campaign.

Men and money appear likely to precipitate the first two debates, but perhaps before either issue—the father draft and taxes—is settled, congress will turn its attention to international policy.

Pending before the house is a simply worded resolution, sponsored by Rep. Fulbright (D-Okla.), which would put the house and senate on record in favor of world cooperation to preserve peace. Leaders are reported to have agreed to make it the first order of business.

The move to draft fathers after October 1 vied for primary interest.

With less than three weeks in which to act, plans have been made for a swift test on Senator Wheeler's (D-Mont) bill to ban induction of fathers at least until January 1 and thus give congress time to inquire into the whole manpower problem.

Meanwhile, the house ways and means committee has begun the spadework on a new tax bill. The administration has asked for $12,000,000,000 in new revenue. But, with the dwindling number of fresh revenue springs and with the treasury still to present its recommendations, doubt is developing on Capitol Hill that a program acceptable to both house and senate can be worked out this year.

STATE WILL SUPPORT SALE MARTIN SAYS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(P)—In an exhortation for support of the current third war loan drive, Governor Martin today placed complete confidence in Pennsylvanians to maintain their "truly impressive record in bond sales."

He told a Four Freedoms rally here that "Pennsylvania production is keeping armies in the field and fleets on the seas. One-fourth of the critical war materials used by the Allies is produced in this commonwealth."

"Pennsylvania fortunes and Pennsylvania dollars have always been war conscious," he explained after retracting the role played by the people of this state in financing wars from that for our independence to the present world crisis.

Jack Frost Bobs Up In Many Sections

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(P)—Jack Frost bobbed up in many western Pennsylvania communities last night for the second day in succession, as the weather continued unseasonably chilly.

Kane reported the frost blackened victory gardens over the hill top area as the mercury skidded to 24 degrees.

The official low at the Pittsburgh airport was 48, four degrees above yesterday's minimum.

The weather bureau predicted slowly rising temperatures in the east portion of the district. Warmer beginning tonight with occasional light rains.

Dr. Poling Planning TOU OF WAR AREAS

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—(P)—The Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling plans an "almost immediate departure" on a second tour of combat areas.

The Baptist Temple, of which he is pastor, announced that the Rev. Dr. Poling would visit Egypt, China and Australia, among other countries, with credentials from the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America; the World Christian Council on War and Peace.

He made a similar mission to the United Kingdom and North Africa early this year.

Droopy Underwear Official Style Note For Bachelors

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—Droopy underwear became an official style note for wartime bachelors today when the Office of Price Administration (OPA) authorized laundries to quit repairing buttons on underwear or pajamas without lowering prices.

It is one of the "frill" services which laundries no longer need perform, Outer shirts will continue to be worn with buttons, as the new order does not regard shirt-button replacement a "frill."

Hand ironing is "out" proving mechanical facilities are available. No more than one grade of starching is required for shirts, so male

AIRDROME AT SALAMAUA IN ANZAC HANDS

Japanese Fighting Desperately to Hold an Escape Lane to Lae After Australian Victory

ALLIES ARE CLOSING IN

By the Associated Press

Australian troops have captured Salamaua airdrome in New Guinea and the Japanese are fighting desperately to hold open an escape lane to Lae, it was announced today.

The Pacific war theatre stirred also with word of another raid on Japan's Kurile islands, and reports that Britain is increasing her Far Eastern fleet for new actions.

Australian pioneers plunged across the flood-swollen Francisco river to seize Salamaua airdrome, and Anzacs pushed ahead fighting the enemy on a ridge 1½ miles northwest of the field. The enemy was compressed tighter about the town of Salamaua, struggling to maintain a trail to Lae.

Two Allied drives meanwhile were closing slowly from the east and northwest upon that base, 13 miles above Salamaua.

A Tokyo broadcast said 18 U. S. bombers hammered again Sunday at the northern Kurile islands, and admitted the firing of two transports and "extremely light" damage to land installations. Eight or nine of the raiders were reported shot down.

Preparing for a possible conclusive drive against Japan's empire in southeast Asia this fall, the British admiralty was reported to be sending many heavier naval units to the Far East, and probably strengthening landing forces with thousands of commandos from Britain.

The expectation was that the campaign might open in October, perhaps directed against the Andaman and Nicobar islands, and Burma.

In the southern Pacific, an American naval officer said the Japanese still were shipping some supplies to their besieged troops at Kolombangara and Vella Lavella islands by night despite the blockade.

Order Issued Local Boards To Reclassify

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—National Selective Service headquarters emphasized today that they will make certain every available man is in the armed forces.

New classifications will be made temporarily throughout the nation at midnight Wednesday while all local draft boards review their records to see that men without dependents are classified properly.

Registrants classified in 2-A and 2-B by mistake, and non-fathers who were placed in 4-F but who now are physically able, will be reclassified.

All state directors have been notified to divide their allocations for October into two calls. The first will be for non-fathers. These will be taken without regard to local selective service board areas. If the state's full quota is not obtained through the first call then a second will be made to fill the remainder of the quota with fathers.

Grape Season On—Boys Are Among Arbors

Grape season is on. The time of colic is at hand when the small boys go out in the moonlight and "coon" a few grapes from a neighbor's arbor and in the hazy light are unable to tell just which grapes are green and which are ripe until they have eaten a few bunches. And then they find out most of them were green and the resultant effect is most embarrassing if far from home. Well, anyhow the boys are out now evenings investigating the grape harvest and the police are having trips from arbor to arbor routing the boys and as in seasons past the cops have quite a time locating the guilty lads until nature has taken its course.

Dogs, too, continued rampant over the week end. They barked, howled and growled and the coppers had to apply the silencer, give warnings and ultimatums. There will be some dogs kept quiet or else.

Two Jamestown girls were picked up at the bus station by the officers. The girls had left their home in Jamestown much to the consternation and worry of parents. They had run short of funds and had an unappetizing appetite. The coppers fed 'em and led 'em to police headquarters where a telephone call brought a Jamestown officer down to take charge.

E. C. Coan, 107 South Carver street, driving his car east on Pennsylvania avenue, slammed into the machine of Arthur L. Chapman, parked on Pennsylvania avenue near the Carver House. Coan suffered about $75 damage to his car while that of Chapman was not badly hurt. Coan also will face a charge of reckless driving today.

John Bailey had a shotgun in his home and while he was in Buffalo the gun disappeared. Investigation by the police found the gun in the possession of two boys. While conducting the Quiz Kid program the police discovered the boys had also stolen some quilts, an axe, nails, etc. And just for good measure one of the boys confessed to snitching some peanuts and potato chips from one of the Walker Ice Cream Company's trucks.

Seek Women For Places In Armed Force

Lt. Elizabeth H. Clark, Erie District recruiting officer for the Women's Army Corps, will be in Sheffield tomorrow for the purpose of interviewing applicants and will be guest speaker at the evening meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary at that place.

The day of Lt. Clark's visit to Warren has been changed to Wednesday and, beginning this week, she will be at the YWCA every other Wednesday until further notice. The hour will be from 10 a. m. to noon and from 4:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m.

"You women and girls who enlist in the Women's Army Corps during the fall and winter will receive your basic training at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., or Daytona Beach, Fla.," says Lt. Clark. "You'll get plenty of sunshine, vitamin and healthful exercise; good food and regular routine will put you in A-1 condition. And remember, as soon as you're assigned to one of the 155 non-combat jobs in the Army, you'll replace an able-bodied soldier. If you enlist in the Women's Army Corps now, you may be instrumental in preventing a father from being inducted, since WACS are figured the same as men in making out the Army's manpower requirements."

You may enlist in the WAC if you are between the ages of 20 and 50, are of good character, and pass a mental and physical test. Come in and see me when I am in town. The Army needs you.

THE earth-shaking concussion from the bursting shells woke Bette from a deep sleep. Her senses still dulled, she jerked erect, tried to think what had happened. The great natural cave that served as bomb-shelter was jammed with cots. It was dimly lighted now. A few nurses moved from bed to bed, their smiles steady, their voices calm. Bette got to her feet. Outside, the world seemed to have gone mad with violence.

Another Jap raid! And this one certainly meant business. Bette found Sue trying to cook an alcohol lamp to life.

"Can I borrow a clean uniform from you, Sue?" she asked and began scrubbing herself energetically in icy water from the slim supply stored in a gasoline drum.

Sue's full lips twisted bitterly. "No body has had a clean uniform since the hospital burned. Nor a decent meal. Nor an hour off duty. This is war, remember?"

Bette straightened, looked at her sister sharply. "That's not the way to talk, Sue. Complaining won't help any."

"Don't I know it! And, what wouldn't I give to be home right this minute!"

Bette grasped the younger girl's shoulders firmly. "Look here, I'm ashamed of you, Sue! There's a job to be done. We've got to see it through."

Sue shrugged herself loose from Bette's grasp, turned away. "Oh, so peddle your fine talk somewhere else. I'm tired of listening to it."

THEN, as if to point up Sue's mood, the shells fell closer, rocked the shelter fearfully. The big drum of water rocked perilously near to tipping over. Several basins fell clattering to the floor. Bette steadied the drum, picked up the basins, went immediately to the bedside of a flyer whose head was swathed in bandages. His hot hands plucked the bed-clothes feverishly. She took them in her

New Allied landings now center the fighting in Italy in three areas: the American 5th Army under Gen. Mark W. Clark is forcing back the Germans at Salerno, south of Naples (American flag, right); new British expedition has landed at Taranto (British flag, right); and General Montgomery is combining an amphibious by-pass and the attack up the toe of the boot to speed the northward drive of his British 8th Army. Probable Allied strategy is to trap the remaining Germans in a cornered pincer.

Restaurant Owners to Choose Their Regulating Committee At Tuesday Evening Meeting

Letters have been sent to all restaurant operators under General Order No. 50, and to obtain compliance with the trade by showing why it is necessary to post ceiling prices in conformity with regulations.

Mr. Ley is following instructions of the Erie District office, believes that a committee made up of restaurant men, by reason of their special knowledge, could handle things much better than having it done by the OPA. Neither the Price and Rationing board nor the Price Panel will be officially connected with this group.

As this meeting is of great importance to all restaurant men, it is believed there will be a large attendance Tuesday evening.

"RODIES" for BOMBERS

ON OCTOBER 25, 1940—more than a year before Pearl Harbor—U. S. Army Air Corps officials notified us of the urgent need for a vast increase in aircraft production and invited us to participate.

Already we were making Army trucks in great number, completing a huge tank arsenal, building field ranges and tent heaters, and making our first studies of anti-aircraft gun manufacture.

Here was another urgent job that had to be tackled at once.

Without waiting to learn what aircraft job would be assigned to us, we provided 600,000 sq. ft. of additional plant space and, from our own personnel, began to select engineering, metallurgical and manufacturing specialists for this new work.

It was just three months after our first meeting with Air Corps officials that we were officially notified our job was to build the complete nose and center fuselage sections for medium bombers including installation of complete mechanical and control systems.

We immediately sent forty of our technicians to a producing aircraft plant where these men did regular production work and observed, at first hand, the production methods then in use. Our long background in building automobiles and trucks, plus the experience these men gained working with an aircraft manufacturer, enabled us quickly to get under way with the necessary tools and equipment to turn out "rodies" for bombers by quantity production methods.

To help account us in advance with the many kinds of material and operations involved, the Army Air Corps sent us a bomber chassis made intensive analyses of aircraft blueprints covering more than fourteen thousand structural parts.

The materials to be used included aluminum, steel, brass, bronze, plastics, plywood and fabrics.

OVER 14,000 PARTS TO BE FORGED, CAST, STAMPED, MACHINED AND PRECISION FITTED

Many of the metal parts presented entirely new working characteristics. They required elaborate heat treating processes for the extreme stresses demanded of them. They also presented new problems in the design and use of the dies required to shape them.

Our production and purchasing specialists determined which parts we could subcontract to other companies. As the work progressed, orders were given to 2,255 subcontractors in 309 towns, in 29 states.

Aluminum forgings would be needed in large numbers by us and other manufacturers participating in the expanded aircraft production program. Therefore, we were given the job of building an aluminum forge plant to take care of these requirements. We also prepared at our foundry to produce aluminum castings required for plane manufacture.

Thousands of men and women had to be trained for this new type of work. Women were employed in large numbers and carefully taught drilling, riveting, machining and assembling of aircraft parts. Automobile sheet metal workers, body builders and trimmers were shown how to apply their skill and experience to the production of bomber parts.

The big nose of the bomber houses the Bombardier, Pilot, Co-Pilot, Navigator and Radio Operator. Nearly all the mechanical and electrical controls are here, while the center section is the bomb carrying space.

If you could look within these sections as the work of assembly goes on, you would see a bewildering network of wires and tubing as well as the structural skeleton of the ship. Every one of these 1,963 separate wires and over 1,000 feet of tubes—to say nothing of all the control mechanisms—must operate faultlessly.

In the production of "rodies" for bombers—a new field to Chrysler Corporation—again is demonstrated how our experience in peacetime car and truck production now is being applied to the production of war equipment in quantity... and on time.

HITLER SPOUTS AGAIN

Hitler's screams of rage at Italy's "treachery," and his feverish efforts to offset the debacle with a bewildering barrage of propaganda and such theatricals as the establishment of a puppet government in Rome, show clearly that the moral effect of his Axis partner's collapse is like a knife between the ribs.

Frequently it's difficult to separate the moral and military effects at a confused moment like this, because military adversity follows the moral shock so quickly. However, it strikes many that in the long run the moral aspect of this historic surrender is going to be the biggest Allied gain.

Recognition of this drove the fuhrer to the microphone Saturday to try to prevent a stampede at home and abroad by double talk. That speech was underscored with fear. It wasn't the same old arrogant Hitler who strove to produce oily words to pour on the troubled waters, but a badly frightened Herr Shicklegruber who found the oil barrel empty. This fear he deliberately handed on to his people in an effort to hold them in line.

At least twice the master gangster trotted out the old bugbear of Allied intention to destroy Germany and other Axis countries—one of Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels' favorite lines.

Why did Hitler return to this idea so insistently? Undoubtedly because the humanitarian though firm manner in which the Allies have been handling the Italian situation makes his fear that the German people, and other Axis peoples, will realize that unconditional surrender doesn't mean that they are to be destroyed.

The whole world has been watching to see what would happen to a defeated member of the Axis. Now the world knows that while Italy must pay the full and heavy price for Mussolini's brigandage, she isn't going to be "annihilated" or "enslaved." On the contrary, the world sees that the Allies even are preparing to lend the Italians a helping hand in the way of providing food and other essentials.

That is bound to have a tremendous effect on the German people and on other enemy countries.

VOTE TOMORROW

Tomorrow is primary election day, and every indication points to an unusually light vote unless the electorate shows an entire change of front between now and seven o'clock Tuesday.

It is admitted that the average person has his mind on the great events that are happening all over the world, as the boys and girls from Warren and every community are fighting on far-flung battlefields, scattered over more than sixty different fronts.

At the same time it is incumbent upon the people at the home front to retain their interest in vital affairs of a home nature. This observation is made because of the apparent indifference shown throughout the borough and county in the primary tomorrow.

Various political writers have voiced the opinions that not more than thirty per cent of the registered vote will take the trouble to go to the polls Tuesday. This would be a big mistake.

It is vitally important that voters register their choice of candidates for the various municipal, county and state offices. The men successful tomorrow will oppose each other at the general election in November, and voters should make certain that they have a voice in deciding who these men are to be. This can be done only by going to the polls and voting. Otherwise the selections will be made by a minority. They should be made by a majority, and unless there is quickened interest on the part of patriotic citizens anxious to see perpetuated our democratic form of government, for which our men and women in the service are fighting, this will not be done.

Vote tomorrow, and urge your neighbors and friends to go to the polls.

Here's a suggestion for local shoe dealers: Over in Erie shoe merchants have organized and are planning to bring to the attention of their customers the fact that shoe coupon No. 18 will expire on October 31st and that those planning to buy shoes should do it early and not wait as happened on the other coupon, when stores were jammed and hundreds were unable to get what they wanted.

The winter schedule of hours for Warren retail establishments affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce will go into effect this Wednesday when the stores will remain open during the afternoon.

With some Italian ships now on the Allied side, the crews may yet get a taste of war.

Anybody Got a Couple Aspirin Tablets?

What it Means

By ROBERT M. FARRINGTON

A STRONG indication of what kind of a world we expect to live in after the war should pop out of the discussion over compulsory military training in peacetime.

Representative Andrew J. May (D-Ky.) has promised to introduce a bill when Congress reconvenes this month requiring every able-bodied male between 17 and 21 to take a year's military training.

The fate of such a bill would attract great interest both here and abroad as unmistakable evidence of whether the United States intends to be prepared to fight again if necessary or is going to lapse into the pacifist role she adopted after the last war.

Following the Armistice in 1918, similar bills were prepared but strong pacifist sentiment sweeping the country foredoomed them to failure. With the war won and 3,000 miles of ocean protecting us from Europe's problems, people felt a big Army was unnecessary, that the peace was permanent.

Super-bombers that can fly half a carload of bombs across the Atlantic and return without refueling are almost here. General Arnold has revealed, and the protection from aggression once afforded by our oceanfront has been blasted forever by their development.

In the peace that will follow this war, Americans will have to decide whether to strip down their military machine and build another should war come again, or maintain some part of that machine so as not to be caught napping in case of another sneak attack such as Pearl Harbor.

Since it has been proved that, given the time, America can build a mighty and invincible Army, future wars would very likely start with sudden, devastating and unexpected enemy attacks from the air on our key cities so as to paralyze our effort before it began.

About 1,000,000 youths a year would have to take military training as soon as they left high school, under May's plan. They would be in the Army a year, but could keep up their studies so as to go right into college without difficulty when their time was up. Under this program a reserve of 10,000,000 men could be built up in 10 or 15 years, to be quickly mobilized for service if necessary.

This reserve would do away with the alternative of a huge standing Army which has never appealed to unutilitarian America. May believes that a regular Army of 500,000 (double the 1939 strength) would be enough.

Nearly every country in Europe and South America had some form of compulsory military service before the war. Switzerland's system offers an example of how a small army can be expanded rapidly. All men from 18 to 60 are subject to between 38 and 102 days of military training.

There are few exceptions and those excused or rejected pay certain taxes in lieu of service.

After the first year's service, the men are called up for 11 days annually for seven years, then go on the reserves. Normally, 46,000 men are being trained in the Swiss military establishment. When war broke out 650,000 men were mobilized.

Whether May's plan succeeds or fails will not in itself point to the post-war path the United States intends to follow. The discussion, however, will smoke out public sentiment and afford a key to as to whether in the middle of one war, people are ready to contemplate its successor.

Dragons Defeat Johnsonburg 26 to 0 For Second Win

Local Gridders Drive Hard in First Quarter Running Up Big Lead

Warren's Blue and White gridgers tied on another victory ribbon to the growing Dragon Saturday by rolling on to their second victory win in three starts over the Johnsonburg Johnnies by the overwhelming score of 26 to 0.

Never waiting for a moment to see how strong the Paper City clan was, the locals ran wild in the opening minutes of the contest and by the time the dust had cleared, they had run up a score that erased all doubt of the outcome.

The first counter came after each team had handled the pigskin in midfield to the limit of downs when Vesling, Warren full-back punted out of bounds on the Johnsons 22 yard stripe. On the first play a Johnsonburg fumble was recovered by Tome, right half of the Blue and White. Snyder tried right guard with little success, but Gusti Arrigo uncorked one of his lengthy passes, on the very next play, and Charley McLean pulled it down over the enemy goal line, bringing the crowd to its feet with the speed of their first scoring play. Snyder's plunge for the extra point fell short and the locals were piling up revenge for their defeat last week at the hands of the Erie Academy Lions.

Johnsonburg still couldn't find holes in the tight Dragon defenses and started to take the air lanes with Schott, bullet Wingback for the Johnnies handling most of the shuttling and running too. Vesling's kickoff was taken to the Johnsons 30 from the 27 by Schott but he was forced to boot out of danger after advancing only to the 32. The ball was downed by Kineski, right end for the paper crew on the local 47, from where Vesling and Jim Snyder worked up to the 30. Again the locals were forced to punt and this time it wound up on the 20 and the enemy took a bad break with a penalty back to the 15 on the first play.

Schott took over for iron man play again and managed to push through to the 25, from where he elected to kick again. This time a badly timed punt was downed on the Johnnies 44. Carlson smashed through center to the 39 and Arrigo skipped through a gap in right guard to a first down on the 30. Then, Snyder and Gerry Vesling cracked another gap in the line, finishing on the 20 and another first down. Vesling tried the left side of the line with one yard for his work and once more the duo of Arrigo to McLean cut another piece of score out for themselves when Gusti found his left handed receiver waiting all alone over the goal line and the 12 to 0 count went on the books while the ball was still sailing. Snyder tried a center rush for the singleton. Score 12-0.

The second quarter found an entirely new team continuing the advance on the hapless Johnsonburg outfit and after Schott kicked to the Warren 32 from deep in the local territory, the pilerdriver backfield of the second squad composed of Wilder, Greene, and Jackson opened up in as fury to show what they could do.

Wilder hit left tackle for 2 yards to the 30, and with a Jackson pass incomplete, took over again and slipped through the right side of the wilying Paper City line to the 25. Greene made it first down by the center route but four more downs with Wilder and Jackson at the helm still showered the rear stake on the 20, and Johnsonburg in possession.

Schott tried the air for a break on the first play, but Chuck McLean reached over Leahy's shoulder and pulled up on the 18 with an intercepted pass. Then, Greene collected three down the middle and Jackson put an aerial in Adam's hands, advancing to the 9. Greene smashed through center for the first down and Wilder carried to the 7 on the first play of the new set. Marti found a gap and took it to the 1 yard stripe and Green handled the center rush for the third counter. Wilder just missed taking the extra point with an off guard plunge.

The second half found the Johnsonburg gridgers holding up better and although they couldn't advance into any dangerous position, they held the best Warren could offer for nearly half the period.

The Johnny combination of Schott, Siccuza and Casillo picked up two first downs in quick succession by breaking through the Dragon defenses from their 35 down to the locals same stripe, but Arrigo intercepted one of Schott's aerials shaking up their attack. The enemy line held the locals to their last down on this turn and Vesling again was forced to kick, getting off a good one to the Johnsonburg 30. A bad center was juggled by Schott on the first play and he was brought to earth on the 19, from where he kicked a low one into Schmadier's midriff and Warren's Snyder recovered on their 20. Snyder and Vesling again teamed up and racked up another first down by hitting the line to the 9 and then let Arrigo take over with another of his passes, this time to Adams for the counter. Snyder made good on the point through the line.

The third period was a heart breaker for the hard trying third squad, when they went in and after proving a styvie to the fast moving backs of Johnsonburg took things into their own hands and with George Lucia, Weidner and Warner carting the oval worked it to the enemy 2 yard stripe but the excitement got the best of them and a bad pass from center ended their threat.

The last period was given to the second team again and with seconds to go Jackson and Wilder passed and ran to the 8 yard stripe with still another goal at most in their grasp, but the game ended and gave the worn-out Johnnies, who were playing their first game of the year, respite.

The local backfield showed up much better in their third game of the year, and the line with Sirriani and Charley McLean holding the star spots for the day with Salsby Zobrest a bulwark at the left tackle position, the latter pulling down passes, and other two breaking up plays for the opposition, proved the Dragons are really startin' to roll.

The tourney should have been over some time ago but was delayed due to bad weather.

The tennis season at the "Y" was officially brought to a close with the ending of the tournament and the court will be closed at the end of this week unless warmer weather sets in.

Riddle Twirls a One-Hitter To Feature Day of Unusual Pitching in Major Leagues

BY TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
It isn't very often that a one-hitter is pitched in the major leagues after Labor Day, but Elmer Riddle, of the Cincinnati Reds, accomplished the feat against the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday.

In a day marked by superlative mound performances, Riddle's effort was easily the best. Pitted against the 20-game winner, Rip Sewell, in the first game of a doubleheader, Riddle retired the first 22 men to face him. Then, with one out in the eighth, Bob Elliott doubled for the Pirates' lone bingle.

Riddle went on to gain his 19th victory of the year, 1 to 0. Only one other Pittsburgh batter got on base.

Ace Adams, the "work horse" of the majors, came nearest to Riddle's performance. The Iron City, Ga. right hander joined the New York Giants in 1941, but has been used exclusively in relief. Yesterday he started his first game and beat the Boston Braves, 7 to 2, with a neat three-hitter.

Adams took the mound in the second game of a twin bill and his success marked the Giant's fourth straight win. In the opener Southpaw Cliff Melton blanked the Braves, 3 to 0, by scattering seven hits.

The New York Yankees ended a five-game series with the Boston Red Sox victoriously, 1 to 0 and 9 to 6.

The St. Louis Browns likewise got good pitching from Bob Muncrief and Denny Galehouse and swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 0 and 6 to 2.

Washington moved within two percentage points of the second place Cleveland Indians by beating the Philadelphia Athletics 4 to 3 and 9 to 5.

Tommy Bridges hurled a four-hitter for Detroit against Cleveland, but lost, 2 to 1, when Mike Rocco tripled and scored on Lou Boudreau's fly.

Brooklyn won its 18th game in 21 starts by beating the Phillies, 8 to 4, through a six-run uprising in the seventh.

A scheduled doubleheader between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs was postponed.

Negotiations For Armistice Are Revealed

D. Eisenhower's staff and the American charge d'affaires took part in the negotiations.

When the terms were completely drafted the Italian general returned to Italy but his trip was delayed and the Italian government, worried, sent another general who brought with him the British General Carton De Wiart, a prisoner of war, as evidence of good faith.

The account added that the armistice itself was signed by the American General Bedell Smith for the Allies and by General Castellano for the Italians. Both General Eisenhower and General Sir Harold Alexander were present.

Lightest Vote in Years is Predicted by Party Leaders

for the fall election. Winning this fall will have a decided bearing on next year.

David Lawrence, Democratic state chairman, said the Democrats "have no primary concern at all and no factional fights that would mean anything. Nobody knows but I expect it (the vote) will be extremely light."

Late harvests and lack of manpower in rural areas probably will keep many farmers away while the stay-at-home vote in the cities will be swelled from the ranks of millions busy in war plants.

Russians away from the narrow land outlets.

The Germans here were reported to have attempted to stem the Russians along previously prepared defense positions, but the Red army broke through at several places. Nazis launched numerous futile counter-attacks.

FAYETTE PROBE LEADS TO BIG DAMAGE SUIT

Uniontown, Sept. 13—(P)—Damage suits for $250,000 against President Judge H. S. Dumbauld, Attorney Wade K. Newell and A. C. Moyer, a contractor, filed by the three Fayette county commissioners and two other county officials, further enlivened the local political fights on the eve of tomorrow's primary.

Commissioners John W. Rankin, Arthur Hinchman and Michael Karolick; Controller Albert Montgomery and County Engineer E. C. McCullough each asked $50,000 damages.

The commissioners all are seeking re-nomination. They were convicted several weeks ago at one trial on charges of mishandling money, but acquitted at two other trials and face another.
